

weather stations

Helen Pang to: Antony Tseng

02/16/2012 04:26 PM

Hi Antony,

Please check the site hosted by the Utah Climate Center <
<http://climate.usurf.usu.edu/products/data.php>>. This site provides access to daily weather data from National Weather Service Cooperative Observing Stations across the state. From the main page, zoom into NJ. Then select the desired station (pink dots denote active stations) from the map (you can select multiple stations by holding the shift key when clicking). You can then use the menu options on the right to select the desired period of record and output variables. Then click "submit" and you'll be able to view and/or download the data.

Hope this helps.

Thanks,
Helen